

Be Honest...

If someone on the street offered you a pill for free, saying that it would keep you safe from getting another disease, would you take it? Most would refuse; at least I would hope they would . Why... because they don't know what is in that pill, and what effects it can have on them.!

Don't Be Ignorant!...

It's Your Choice!!

Ignorance Can Kill You!

You may have heard at some time the term, “Ignorance is Bliss.” What does that really mean? Some people feel it is a “blessing of sorts” not to be aware of news or events that may be disturbing. Others may go out of their way to avoid all news and information that may challenge their opinion, or prove them wrong. The word “ignorance” simply means, unawareness, or lack of knowledge. Awareness and knowledge are essential for survival in some cases.

For example, if you do a lot of hiking or camping in “Bear Country,” being aware of a nearby bear is desirable. Knowledge of what to do if you come face to face with a bear is even more desirable! Do you play dead, or do you stand your ground and stare down the bear, or – do you avoid eye contact with the bear? In this situation, ignorance is definitely not bliss, as the wrong decision can cost you your life!

So what would you do in this situation? Interestingly, both reactions to this situation can be right, and both can be wrong! It all depends on what kind of bear is in front of you. Is it a Black Bear, or is it a Grizzly Bear? Do you even know how to tell the difference? Remember... the wrong reaction on your part can be fatal and the bear has a much better chance of being the winner, and you becoming dinner if you get it wrong.

The moral of this story is...

It is not good to be ignorant when hiking or camping in bear country.

What If What You Believe Is Wrong?

What about ignorance concerning life in general... can ignorance really be, “a blessing?” Perhaps it could be if you were isolated totally from the effects of things going on around you. However, being ignorant of the turmoil around you, although it could make life seem more pleasant at times, It really does not affect the reality of the situation around you, it only affects your perception of the reality of the situation.

If you really don’t care about modern conveniences and such, Certainly you could find a place relatively unaffected by the rest of society and all that comes with it, However, most people (especially younger people) are addicted to modern society and all the “Perks” that come with it. Most cannot go as little as five minutes without the use of their “i-phone!” Many would rather sell their soul to the Devil than give up their phone or some other modern convenience, even for a day!

Just look around you as to how the world has changed in the last few years! People are willing to give up freedom so as not to give up something they may desire. This is extremely dangerous to our way of life! Despite the fact that people in general have access to more information than all previous generations combined, there still remains a lot of ignorance in the world, but how can that be?

The answer is simple in that people in ever increasing numbers,

A Recent Demonstration Of Willful Ignorance...

At the time of this writing (2023) the whole world is still recovering from, “The Pandemic.” There are lots of “Pro’s and Con’s concerning everything from the actual reality of the pandemic itself, to the effectiveness and possible side effects of the Vaccine some people were forced to take, (in some cases, against their will.) While some refused to get the injection, others willfully choose to take it without ever questioning the safety of what is being injected into them! Remember... this was a virtually untested vaccine, with unknown possible long-term side effects! Some listened to only one side of the debate while rejecting all other opinions to the contrary, even from very prominent doctors and scientists!

Why would anyone choose to be ignorant of such things that could profoundly affect them for the rest of their lives? This is a question that many are asking these days! If confronted with a choice that could have adverse consequences to yourself, or someone you care about, would it not be prudent to do some research concerning the “Pro’s and Con’s” from all sources at your disposal! In this situation, you should get as much information as possible, from any and all sources available! With all the censorship going on these days, especially in light of the Fact that the Drug Companies and Hospitals are making Billions of dollars in the process with the promise of no liability. That in itself was reason for concern!

There is so much information available these days, it is foolish to ignore any of it! Why wouldn’t anyone take advantage of that? The only answer is, “Choice.” For whatever reason, some people “Choose” to be ignorant, even if it can cost them their lives!
