I just came across an article about an author, Dan Brown. I have a link on the web site but for future readers here it is again... Replacing God. This is not the official title but it gives you an idea of the content. In part one & two of this series I attempted to bring attention to things going on around us on a daily basis that are pointing to where we are headed. My original intent was to delve into prophecies concerning Israel at this point in the series. However, I am going to direct you to a documentary that will fill that goal better than I can ever do. It is called "The Daniel Project." It is so good that I purchased a copy (something I rarely do). I came across this on Amazon video streaming. Please take the time to watch this program; it will change your view of the world we live in. You will see how God has been working throughout history. Perhaps Mr. Brown should view it too.
